BRADLEY!

Kentucky's Own Son
for President.

BRADLEY'S CURRENCY PLATFOM.

"I am opposed to the free and unlimited coinage of silver, believing it would destroy all National currency. The good dollars, the best dollars, and I am for them, are being overruled and dollar equivalent to it in value. I am the friend of silver, and believe it can be best protected by holding its issue in such bonds as will insure its parity with gold as a circulating medium."

W. O. BRADLEY.

The shortage in Uncle Sam's Treasury for the first twenty-one days of April was $6,583,753 for the fiscal year $25,586,455 54 and for the Cleveland Administration $138,194,959 30.

Governor BRADLEY has stated that the only condition on which he would call an extra session of the Legislature would be the giving of written pledges by all the Democratic Senators agreeing to enact the financial legislation considered necessary to lift the state out of the financial rut into which the Democrats have forced it.

Services by Rev Donald McDonald at the First Presbyterian Church at 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. The public cordially invited.

FED BOTH ARMIES.

General Morgan, General Grant's Great Commissary General.

Washington Post.

Congressman Lacy of Iowa Monday re told an interesting Army story which General Morgan, Commissary General of the United States Army, recently related to his former comrades in arms.

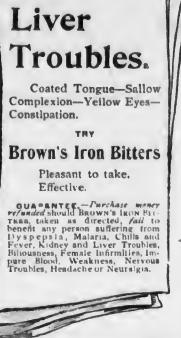

General Morgan was Grant's Commissary, and after the surrenders Appomattox successfully fed Lee's entire army of 25,000 men in addition to Grant's troops. During one of Grant's campaigns the Confederates, by a flank movement rounded up 30,000 others belonging to his Commissary Department, and as soon as the damage became known in Washington a dispatch arrived from Secretary Stanton, demanding to know in categorical language who was responsible for the loss.

"I am promptly telegraphed Grant in reply, and there the master ended. But General Morgan states that while Grant thus stood between him and the irate Secretary of War, he had a peculiar way of showing his resentment to him. On several occasions when there were visitors in camp, Grant would exclaim:

"I have the greatest Commissary General in the world—not only of modern times, but ancient times as well—Colonel Morgan here," and he would point him out with an appearance of honest pride.

"How is that, General?" the visitor would ask.

"How is that?" Grant would say; "why, he feeds our Army and the enemy's too."

Six hunters have trapped 225 foxes within ten miles of Gardner, Me., during the past winter. One of the hunters claims to have a secret bait that is irresistible to a fox, and he has a record of sixty-eight foxes last winter. He sold the secret to another trapper, who got fifty-two foxes.

A stupidly obstinate piece of litigation has just been settled by the House of Lords. Two Aberdeenshire landowners quarreled over the right to fish in the River Dee, which borders their estates for 150 yards. Both admitted that the fishing was of no value, but they have spent $15,000 to have their rights decided.

A number of Philadelphia capitalists have decided to build in that city a colosseum to be devoted to all forms of sports. It will be two stories high, and an auditorium seating 20,000 people on the second floor. The first floor will be used for an artificial ice rink, horse, dog and cat show, bicycle exhibitions, athletic games, conventions and concerts.

It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy. In many instances the attack may be prevented by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25c and 50c bottles for sale by J. J. Wood, Druggist.

The water is getting rather slim below here for heavy coal tugs.

The river at this point continues to fall, with 14 feet in the channel.

The Henry M. Stanley passed up last night for the Kanawha river.

The Keystone State passed down last night with a big trip of both freight and passengers, among the latter being fifty of Pittsburgh's leading society ladies.

The U. S. Lightships Tender Goldenrod arrived at Point Pleasant early yesterday morning, and started up the Kanawha to supply the lights and make a few changes.

It will take a week or ten days for the Lee H. Brooks to get aboard her new machinery and battery of boilers. The boat has been put in trim for the summer excursion, and when she is ready for service she is bound to go out on excursions from Cincinnati and will not go back up the river.

An exciting race occurred on the river Tuesday evening. The new Pittsburgh packet Virginia and the Pomeroy packet Sherley left the Public Landing, Cincinnati, at the same hour, and a contest of speed resulted. For a time they were close together, but at New Richmond the Sherley was a mile ahead. By the time Ripley was reached the Sherley had gained another mile, and it is believed that she will carry away the laurels as the fastest boat above Chilo.

There have been heavy rains all along the upper Ohio and the Allegheny, the Allegheny, Monongahela, and Kanawha sections. The rainfall at Charleston, W. Va., was nearly an inch, and the Kanawha and New rivers will likely rise. The Ohio has already begun rising at headwaters, with 6.8 at Pittsburgh and 10 feet at Wheeling, where the river was one foot. From there the balance of the way along the Ohio the stream continues falling. The Big Sandy is falling.

In what is known as "Brickyard Bend" on the Ohio river there are 12 brickyards, 15 sewer-pipe works, 6 coal mines, 3 stone quarries, while daily output is 4,250 tons, or 1,350,200 tons annually, sufficient to load 1,828 boats of 1,000 tons each, or 4,656 boats of 50 tons capacity. The region proper embraces about six miles frostage on both sides of the river, and New Cumberland, the principal town, claims to furnish more river tonnage than any other port between Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

WEEKLY REPORT.

Condition of Kentucky Crops Up to Monday Evening.

The past seven days presented a most remarkable combination of weather conditions, which in some respects are entirely unique in the records of the Weather Bureau for this state. It was a week of July weather translated into April. The heat was unusually oppressive throughout the week, and maximum temperatures of 90 degrees or more were reported almost daily. This surprised any known record for the second decade of April. Practically no rain fell, only a few light and scattered showers being reported. The amount of sunshine received was in excess of the average, clear to partly cloudy weather prevailing during the greater part of the week.

The general effect of the conditions described was highly beneficial to farming interests, though some crops were being ginned to need rain at the close of the week. All vegetation was stimulated to a lively growth, and much was accomplished to offset the previous backwardness of the season. The work of plowing made great progress and considerable corn planting was done. The reports concerning the condition of wheat are still very conflicting, but it is apparent that it is generally below the average for the season.

WESTERN KENTUCKY.

The temperature in this section of the state averaged slightly lower than in others, and good showers early in the week are reported from a few counties. The general tone of reports is highly favorable.

Farm work has made great progress, and the greater portion of the growing in the higher lands has been completed, and the lowlands, which had hitherto been too wet to be plowed, are now being worked. Corn-planting has been under full headway throughout the week, and in some of the Southern tier of counties is nearly completed. Wheat is apparently in much better condition than that in other sections of the state.

All correspondents state that it has improved greatly during the week, and many report its condition to be excellent. Oats is coming up very nicely, and all kinds of grass look well. Tobacco plants are growing very rapidly and are very plentiful. Cutworms have appeared in many counties, but as yet no damage has been inflicted by them. All fruits are safe and the outlook for an abundant crop is excellent. Rain would still further improve the prospects in this section.

CENTRAL KENTUCKY.

The highest temperatures for the week are reported from this section of the state. No rain fell and the hot weather, combined with the brisk winds which prevailed during the week, have rendered the soil very dry and dusty, and there is hardly an exception to the general complaint that rain is needed. Farm work has, however, made rapid strides during the week.

The greater part of the corn land has been plowed and much planting has been done. Wheat, though improved somewhat, is generally reported to be in poor condition in this section of the state, and in many places is being plowed under and the land being prepared for corn. Oats and young clover are coming up very well, and pastures and meadows are in good condition. A great deal of gardening has been done during the week. The soil has been prepared for hemp, but the crop cannot be put in until rain comes. A great many tobacco beds were sown, and in many the plants are up and look very well. Fruits of all kinds promise a good yield. Some complaint is made from a few counties of the appearance of cutworms.

EASTERN KENTUCKY.

The excessively warm weather combined with the total absence of rain has caused the soil to become very dry, and the need of rain is greater in this section perhaps than in Central counties. Upon the whole, however, all forms of vegetation have advanced rapidly and farmers are catching up with their work. Plowing for corn is in progress and some has been planted, but the putting of the crop in the ground will probably be somewhat late. The seeding of oats is about completed, and some are growing above ground. Wheat has improved, but its condition is generally reported to be only fair.

Grasses of all kinds are in good condition, but need rain. Gardening has made good progress during the week and potato planting is about completed. All fruits are in full bloom and promise a good yield.

A cellar says it takes eight pounds of gunpowder to loosen 100 tons of coal.

Thomas Finigan of Elmwood, Ind., is the happy owner of a four-legged Plymouth Rock rooster.

A cyclist in Bedfordshire, England, has had his machine shattered under him by lightning, but he escaped unharmed.

Leading citizens of Virginia propose to establish a National Battle-field Park on the site of the famous battle near Fredericksburg.

Robert Chute, brakeman on the Central Vermont Railroad, was shoveling coal at New London, Conn., the other day, preparing for the trip to Brattleboro when he found a live exploding box of dynamite and half a pound of gunpowder, enough to have wrecked the engine and most of the train.

CAMERON AND BLACKBURN.

An New Entirely Presidential Ticket In the Field.

Washington Post.

There is a new Presidential ticket in the field. It reads:

President—J. Donald Cameron of Pennsylvania.

Vice President—J. C. S. Blackburn of Kentucky.

It is said that this ticket has been quietly discussed among Democrats, who think that the free-silver element will control at the Chicago Convention. Mr. Cameron would certainly be a strong candidate in the Western Republican states, while his record in accomplishing the defeat of the Force Bill would certainly commend him to the South. After his vote in that eventful struggle, and for which he was burned in effigy in his own state, the Southern Democrats would have no voice of a Force Bill under a Republican Administration. Mr. Cameron is rich, with large monetary interests conservative, with experience as a Cabinet officer, as well as a public man in other positions, and except for his silver views would have the support of the entire business community. He has, however, a free silver following in his own state.

It is urged that Blackburn's nomination as the Vice-Presidential nominee would take Kentucky out of the doubtful column. His recent fight for the United States Senatorship, in which he would have been successful but for the opposition of the Cleveland Democrats, has given him a national reputation.

The reader of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Cataract. Cataract is one of the most positive cures known in the medical fraternity. Cataract being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Cataract is a disease of the eye, and particularly acting directly on the blood and nervous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the eyesight and assisting the body in its general work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials. Address: F. C. Clegg & Co., Toledo, O.
